

Articles Gap Fill Exercise

Directions: Fill in the blanks with either "a," "an," "the," or "some."

Yesterday, I saw two students. One student was _____ male, _____ other was _____ female. They were having _____ argument. _____ guy was yelling at _____ girl and _____ girl was crying. I don't know what _____ argument was about, but I felt sorry for _____ girl.

While I was watching _____ two students, _____ man in _____ blue car drove up. He got out of _____ car and walked up to _____ girl. He was carrying _____ flowers which he offered to _____ girl. She did not take _____ flowers from _____ man, though. When she refused _____ flowers, _____ man looked very sad. He turned to _____ other man and gave him _____ money and left. _____ two students then left, too.

Articles Gap Fill Exercise

-----Answer Key-----

Yesterday, I saw two students. One student was a male, the other was a female. They were having an argument. The guy was yelling at the girl and the girl was crying. I don't know what the argument was about, but I felt sorry for the girl.

While I was watching the two students, a man in a blue car drove up. He got out of the car and walked up to the girl. He was carrying some flowers which he offered to the girl. She did not take the flowers from the man, though. When she refused the flowers, the man looked very sad. He turned to the other man and gave him some money and left. The two students then left, too.